Telephone Cable To Azusa and Glendora Burns in Two Friday

The main cable of the Home Telephone company leading from Covina to the Azusa and Glendora districts was burned in two at 3 p.m. Friday afternoon, throwing the two communities out of telephone service for several hours and rendering outside service impossible for a period of twelve to twenty-four hours.

The flames originated by a rancher from Whittier who owned a five-acre tract on the west side of Citrus avenue at the intersection of Section Center, who set fire to the undergrowth on his tract. The sparks carried to the tops of tall palm trees adjacent, igniting them and extending to the cable.

Manager Wright of the telephone company immediately installed operators on the emergency boards at both Azusa and Glendora, giving local connections, and every man of the local force and also men from Pomona were put at the task of splicing the large 150-pair cable and bracing the poles that had toppled after the breaking of the lead. Practically all the poles between the break and Citrus avenue were down.

A limited connection was made by Saturday morning, but it took several hours longer to get the lines in shape and back to their former efficiency.

Mr. and Mrs. Myron Crawford of West Center street entertained Wednesday for the day Mr. and Mrs. Ogle and Mrs. Charles Barth of San Diego, Mrs. Walter Frost and two children, Mr. and Mrs. Liggett and Mr. and Mrs. Clark of Pasadena.

"Bootlegger Trial" Will Be Staged By Local W. C. T. U.

Tonight (Friday) at the grammar school, one of the best entertainments of the season will be put on by the W. C. T. U. The "Bootlegger Trial" gives an enlightening as well as amusing view of the resulting evils of the non-enforcement of the eighteenth amendment, and it is of interest to know that the pleas of both the prisoner and her lawyer are taken from actual facts in Judge Sheldon's court in Los Angeles. Prominent local people will assist the four state officers (who are judge, prosecuting and defending lawyers and prisoner) as arresting officers, chemist, W. C. T. U. friendly neighbor, bailiff, and members of the jury. City Marshal Berry in full uniform will act as the arresting officer, and Harry R. Webber as clerk of the court.

The county W. C. T. U. annual convention will be held in the Presbyterian church, Pomona, next week Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday. A number of local women will go over each day. The sessions will be of special interest.

Nationally Known Physician Dies at Local Hospital

Dr. Roland Edward Skeel, who died at the Covina hospital on Friday morning September 4th, had many friends in this community who had known him in a professional way or in the more intimate affairs of life during his long residence in Cleveland, Ohio. Miss Melisse Witler and Miss Lavina Graham served under him as chief of staff of St. Luke's hospital, Cleveland. Miss Grace Outland, at an earlier period, was his secretary when he was dean of the medical department of Ohio Wesleyan college.

Seeing the need of a hospital in the San Gabriel valley, it was through his suggestion that the Misses Witler and Graham sought this location. How fitting, when stricken, that he should desire to come to the institution to which his thought had given birth, cared for by those in whom he had a personal interest!

Miss Mary Witler accompanied Dr. and Mrs. Skeel to Carmel-by-the-Sea a few weeks ago, where they remained until a sudden relapse on August 30th, when the doctor was brought to Covina. Dr. Skeel was a personal friend of the late Mr. and Mrs. P. E. Letchworth, and also of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Bush and others in this locality.

Upon the consolidation of the Ohio Wesleyan college with the Western Reserve university, Dr. Skeel continued as professor of gynecology. At the opening of the war he was sent by the government to study surgical methods in England and France, having been affiliated with Dr. John Blake of New York in the American hospital at Paris. He served in the British with the 14th Engineers, and upon the organization of the American army, was transferred to the A. E. F. and given the title of major. Dr. Skeel, who received his degree of M. D. from the University of Michigan in 1890, had attained to one of the highest positions in the United States, that of president of the College of Physicians and Surgeons.

At the close of the war Dr. Skeel changed his residence to Southern California, where his wife, Mrs. Alma Skeel, and daughter, Mrs. H. V. Lee, who survive, had resided for several years. Here Dr. Skeel maintained an office in the Westlake Professional building and served on the staff of the California Lutheran hospital.

Services were held Tuesday at 3 p.m. in the Church of the Flowers at Forest Lawn, conducted by Bishop Mitchell of Ohio. Interment was in a crypt in the beautiful mausoleum at Forest Lawn, the gift of his life-long friend, Mr. John A. Penton of Cleveland, who, with Dr. Paul Beach of Cleveland, hastened to California on hearing of Dr. Skeel's illness.

Mountain Firemen Gather at Dinner

The September meeting and dinner of the Angeles Forest Protective association held in the Sunset cafe, Azusa, on Tuesday evening was attended by fourty-two of those interested in the protection of our mountains from fire. The gathering included the directors of the various units of the association, the county firewardens, Federal Supervisor Geo. Ced, County Forester Spence Turner, Chairman Gilman of the association, the federal foresters and the government agents.

The evening was devoted largely to viewing the large fire which last onth swept 5000 acres in the Tejunga canyon and threathened the Pasadna watershed. Supervisor Cecil mplimented the efficient service wch was rendered by the men of the rotective association units, especial mentioning those of the valley wns, Azusa, Glendora, Covina, Bawin Park, and San Dimas. Twenty-fi of these experienced men, said the sprvisor, were of more value in the ountains at time of fire than 200 o the class that could be gathered upon Main and Los Angeles streets Los Angeles. He also heartily commended the co-operation which was fnished by the county forestry depament. It was the long firebreak wh had been cut along the ridge in t fall of last year by the county restry department which saved th fire from being as extensive and vastating as that which passed o the eastern end of the range in t San Gabriel last year.

Those present om Covina were: Frank Stokes, A Marshall, Paul Gray, and J. L. tthews.

"A Grim Reality"

Boy Radio Artist Draws Overflow Crowds to Church

Over two hundred persons were turned away from the doors of the Covina Christian church at the union services on Sunday evening, unable to gain admission to hear Richard Headrick, the "Little Minister of KHJ." Every foot of the auditorium, adjacent classrooms and platform was filled at 7 o'clock, thirty minutes before the hour of the service.

Richard, who is only eight years old, is gifted with a most winning personality and has a command of language and a delivery which might be envied by platform speakers of mature age. His speech dealt with the prophet Elijah, the title of "Under That Juniper Tree." He spoke for twenty-five minutes without hesitation, and maintained the rapt attention of his audience.

A pleasant feature of this union service of the local churches was the inspirational music provided by a mass chorus choir, a men's chorus and a young people's quartet, under the leadership of Rev. George G. Elder. Mrs. Elder presided at the piano and was assisted by O. D. Brouse and Francis Stanton. This program attracted possibly the largest audience ever held in Covina under the regular church service.

RICKETTS FAMILY HOME FROM LONG AUTO TRIP

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Ricketts and daughter, Miss Constance, have returned to their home on west Center street from a ten weeks' visit through the east. From there they visited the Yellowstone park, returning by way of Portland and stopping enroute to visit friends and points of interest. The trip was made by auto, covering 8700 miles, and was made with little or no trouble.

Local Exhibitors Have Displays at Baldwin Park Fair

The Baldwin Park fair opened on Labor day with an attendance of over 3100. It surpasses previous years in exhibits and attendance, and is a credit to the civic clubs of Baldwin Park which ave staged it. The horticultural and poultry and rabbit exhibit is very fine. The agricultural exhibit, under the direction of D. J. Shultis, is exceptional.

V. R. Long, in charge of the poultry food department of the San Gabriel Valley Milling Co., probably carried off the most ribbons for the display of Rhode Island Reds from his Valley View ranch. The Elston ranch also took a blue ribbon on a pen of Leghorns. There were a number of breeding coops, including Japanese silkies, dark cornish, turkeys and golden pheasants. Many kinds of pigeons are displayed, and several varieties of ducks. S. E. Coons of West Badillo street, Covina, was one of the judges in this department. The rabbit industry, mostly from Baldwin Park and Arcadia, is largely represented. It is under the Rabbit Breeders' association of Baldwin Park.

As a sample of the excellent exhibits of fruit and vegetables, the table of J. G. Fisher of Covina Boulevard might be mentioned, containing corn on stalk, new walnuts, popcorn, apples, grapes, peaches, tomatoes, peppers, beans, melons, squash, pumpkins, all of the highest grade. Mammoth squash and large melons are shown in large numbers.

Covina has contributed several outstanding booths, especially in the automobile line. Heth Brothers have on display the Dodge cars, J. H. Fraser is exhibiting the Hudson, A. E. Harnish & Son have an attractive booth for the Chandler-Cleveland. Irven G. Reynolds is on hand with the Buick, while the San Gabriel Valley Chevrolet Dealers were showing the strong points in their cars.

The Covina Rug Works, and the San Gabriel Valley Milling Company have attractive booths. Today (Friday) is Covina day, and it is anticipated that a large number will visit the fair. Several valuable prizes will be given away Saturday evening to the winners on guessing games or the holders of lucky numbers.

The Baldwin Park Parent-Teacher association and the W. T. C. U. have an interesting booth, in connection with which the baby show is carried on. The babies have been lined up each day according to their age, and their merits and demerits checked up by Dr. Lucas of Baldwin Park. Mrs. Nella M. Leech is chairman of this department. The Women's club of Baldwin Park has served substantial lunches and meals throughout the week. Tomorrow, the closing day, is San Gabriel Valley day and it is expected that a large crowd will be in attendance.

Young Girl Badly Hurt in Accident; Driver Is Arrested

Last Saturday, about 5 p.m. Norma Larick, the fifteen-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Otto Larick, was seriously injured by a passing automobile, having her scalp torn open and laid back for such a distance that it required eighteen stitches to close the wound. The girl was walking north on Citrus from her home, between Arroyo and the bridge, going to a neighbor's for milk.

Coincident with the accident, C. M. Gant, from all appearances driving at a high rate of speed, turned the corner of Citrus and Arroyo, while driving north on Citrus, and ran into the ditch, smashing a wheel of his machine. After being towed into the Fard garage, he was arrested by City Marshal Berry for illegal transportation of liquor, it being said that he was apparently in a drunken condition. The case has not been set for trail, as Recorder Chapman is out of town on his vacation.

County Fair To Be Better Than Ever

With but a short time remaining before the fourth annual Los Angeles county fair opens its gates September 22 for a five-day run at Pomona, the fair grounds are humming with intense activity as officials and attaches rush final details of preparation.

All exhibits practically arranged for, and all space reserved in most of the five big tents which will house the fair departments, the management announces that the forthcoming show will be really bigger and better than ever before. More and larger prizes have drawn more and better exhibits in all departments; one of the finest programs of horse racing ever scheduled in the west has been assured by the huge entry list; the nightly horse show will include the cream of the beauties of horseflesh this side of the Missippi—altogether a most complete and varied program of instructive entertainment.

As far as the crowds are concerned, the forecast is made by Manager C. B. Afflerbaugh that last year's record-breaking attendance of 100,000 will be exceeded.

"Combined with the splendid fair program and larger list of exhibits," said Manager Afflerbaugh, "will be the dual celebration of Pomona's fiftieth anniversary and California's diamond jubilee. Thus the fair grounds and fair city will be scenes of constant carnival and celebration during the five days. I would not be surprised to see a 'gate' of 125,000 or more."

Daily program of harness and running races on the fast half-mile track and the nightly horse show of thoroughbreds, together with carnival attractions going on constantly—these will form the outstanding entertainment features. In the exhibit departments will be represented the cream of the west's livestock, agricultural and horticultural products, poultry, pigeons, rabbits, women's handiwork, junior fair exhibits, bees, art, machinery, automobiles, and everything which goes to make up a real "old-fashioned" fair with the most modern trimmings.

Covinaites at Big Bear Lake Over Two-Day Holiday

Lunde's camp at Big Bear was a rendezvous for Covina people over the holiday. A call at the office and a glimpse at the register showed the following Covina guests: Mr. and Mrs. G. F. Rinehart and daughter, Mrs. H. A. Barr and friend, Miss Lela Garver, of Long Beach; Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Stewart and son, Lester, and niece, Irma; Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Shellman and daughter, Juanita; Mr. and Mrs. George Simeonoff, Miss Anna Layman, Mr. Gerald Devol, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Brandon, and Frank Ohaver; Misses Julia Firlotte, Olive Inkey and Beatrice Caron. Also Mr. and Mrs. Joe Nelan and mother of Baldwin Park, and Dr. Cyril Willoughby of Los Angeles.

Mr. John Koch was also up over the week-end, returning Tuesday and bringing with him Mrs. Koch and Sarah Beth and Phyllis, who have spent the past two months in camp. Mrs. Koch is much improved in health.

Mr. and Mrs. Lunde own a very nice piece of property fronting the main street and running back to the lake. They have ten cottages, with room for many more. Mrs. Lunde, with the usual Covina spirit, has made the place very attractive by growing beautiful dahlias and Shasta daisies in the parking and around the walks. Their son, Herbert, will come down for the opening of high school, staying with his uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. George Aschenbrenner. Mr. and Mrs. Lunde, who went up to Big Bear on the 4th of April, will remain and keep the camp open until after the duck season, which opens the first of October.

No Hunting Allowed in Mountains During Present Dry Season

Perhaps the strongest measure ever taken in Los Angeles county to control the fire menace is an emergency ordinance put into effect by the county board of supervisors, which prohibits persons, other than fire wardens and officers, from discharging firearms in the county outside of incorporated cities. The ordinance was passed August 31, and immediately went into force.

Commenting on the new measure, J. A. Graves, assistant county forester, stationed at the San Dimas office, stated that people have been barred from hunting in the mountains north of San Dimas, La Verne and Claremont. However, a small amount of leniency will be shown in the San Jose hills, although hunters must keep to the canyons.

The public is under the impression, said Mr. Graves, that the county forestry department was responsible for the passage of the ordinance. Civic organizations demanded the ordinance, he said.

New Farm Advisor Made For District

Announcement is made by Acting Farm Advisor Rounds of the appointment by the University of California of J. C. Johnston as assistant farm advisor, effective September 1st. Mr. Johnston taught citrus and subtropical horticulture at the college of agriculture for about five years, and has since been connected with commercial interests producing citrus fruits in Arizona for about two years. His long expreience and study of subtropicals makes him an acquisition to the fruit interests and the agricultural extension service of Los Angeles county.

Farm Bureau Units Win Important Rate Victory for Shippers

After a series of conferences with executives of the western railroads, the efforts of the California farm bureau federation in freight rate adjustment reached a successful conclusion. Shippers and growers of California fresh fruits and vegetables are assured that the request for increased freight rates presented to the interstate commerce commission at Chicago on September 8 will not include those perishables.

The western group, comprising 73 companies, requested an increase in revenue of 181 millions, or 11 per cent of past income. Of this, the five roads serving California were to receive 50 million, of which 9 million was to come from California shipments, principally fruits and vegetables. Assured changes in the request are a drop from 11 per cent to 5 per cent in the general increase; no increase whatever on fruits and vegetables; no change in switching and [illegible] and no raise of rates on commodities moved by competing water carriers. This last phase affects walnuts and almonds.

NO, COMPANY'S NOT COMING

IF you drop a dish cloth, company won't come, save as a matter of coincidence. Popular superstitions like this are losing ground; so is the superstition that there is something mysteriously better about "eastern" motor lubricants, merely because they cost more and are made in the east.

The Right Way to Judge Motor Oils

More than ever, motorists are discovering that the test of an oil is not where but how it is made, and how it lubricates. That's why Zerolene—refined from selected western naphthenic base crudes—is today successfully lubricating more cars in the Pacific Coast states than any other oil made.

An Exclusive Process—What it Does

Lubricating qualities have never been more carefully or successfully preserved than by the processes used at Standard Oil Company refineries for the refining of Zerolene:—the Zerolene high-vacuum process, the Zerolene process of filtration through 40 tons of Florida Fuller's Earth, the refineries' 15 positive checks for quality!

What Zerolene Will Do For Your Car

Zerolene will give your car better lubrication: it increases the gasoline mileage, reduces carbon-removal and maintenance costs and lengthens the life of any engine in which it is used. Why pay tribute to a superstition? Insist on Zerolene. Always ask for Zerolene by name.

Get the Facts!

A series of independent and impartial reports showing the experience of large users with Zerolene motor oil has been collected in our booklet, "Why Pay Tribute to a Superstition?" Ask any Standard Oil Company representative or Zerolene dealer for a copy.

Insist on Zerolene—even if it does co less

Brasswell-Sturm Wedding Big Affair

A beautiful church wedding occurred Thursday evening at 8 p.m. at the Baldwin Park Community church when Miss Mabel Leotta Sturm, niece of Mr. and Mrs. L. K. Ashbaugh of West Badillo street, Covina, became the bride of Dallas Jackson Braswell of Glendale. The ceremony was performed in the presence of a large number of relatives and friends by the Rev. R. J. Coyne, pastor of the Community church, assisted by Rev. G. H. Lineberger of Long Beach, a relative of the bride.

After the singing of "I Love You Truly" and "The End of a Perfect Day" by Mrs. Mary L. Page of Los Angeles, the wedding party approached the altar to the strains of Lohengren's wedding march played by Mrs. Jim Taylor of Baldwin Park. The bride, on the arm of her uncle, Mr. L. K. Ashbaugh, wore a gown of white crepe de chine with embroidered panel, trimmed in pearls, and wore an embroidered net veil carried by two little pages, Ruth Seritz of Covina and Cecelie Berg of Baldwin Park. She carried a shower bouquet. Her maid of honor, Miss Virginia Ashbaugh, wore orchid satin, with hat to match, and carried an arm bouquet of orchid roses. The bridesmaids, Miss Leota Arnett of Pomona, Miss Mabelle Luych of Lamar, Colorado, and the Misses Mildred Banks and Fern Mann of Baldwin Park, wore dresses in pastel shades and carried bouquets of fall flowers. Walter Houseworth, Jr., of Covina, and Arthur Scott, Jr., of Long Beach were the flower boys, and Matilde Bravender of Baldwin Park and Dorothy Lynch of Lamar, Colorado, the flower girls. Jimmie Taylor of Baldwin Park was the ring bearer.

The groom was supported by Donald C. Miller of Covina. The ushers were Arthur Scott, Sr., of Long Beach, and Jim Taylor, Kenneth Thompson and Paul Noyes of Baldwin Park. The church was decorated in pink and white asters by Mrs. Nelson Taylor of Baldwin Park.

A reception to one hundred and fifty invited guests was held at the beautiful home of Mr. and Mrs. Delbert Miller at Azusa and Cypress avenues. Mrs. Ashbaugh was assisted in receiving by Mrs. Miller, Mrs. Bell Lynch and Mrs. Ward Middaugh. The color motif was yellow and white, except the billiard room, which was decorated in red. An elaborate luncheon of chicken sandwiches, oyster patties, olives, coffee, ice cream and cake was served by Miss Arnett of Pomona, Miss Lynch of Monrovia, Dale Miller and Morris Miller, the centerpiece at the bride's table being a beautiful wedding cake. Rev. G. H. Lineberger was toastmaster, other speakers being Congressman Walter Lineberger, Rev. R. J. Coyne and Jack Lineberger Ashbaugh. Mrs. Mary L. Page sang during the reception and Mrs. Dan Evans of Fontana gave several piano solos.

After a short wedding trip the young couple will be at home on Oak street, Glendale, where a bungalow, furnished with gifts from relatives and friends, is awaiting them.

Milton Sills Stars in 'Making of O'Malley'

"The Making of O'Malley," to be shown at the Covina theater tonight (Friday) and tomorrow, proved the re-making of Milton Sills. With his elevation to stardom by First National recently, Sills has given a new test of his versatility. Although still the "he-man," Sills's role in his first starring vehicle is a departure from the society roles and woman-hating characterizations of his last successes. In this story Sills has the part of a New York policeman. Dorothy Mackaill is Sills's leading woman in the drama.

For Sunday and Monday nights the offering will be "Secrets of the Night," with James Kirkwood and Madge Bellamy. A Spat Family comic and news pictures will complete the bill.

Tuesday and Wednesday nights the feature will be Johnny Hines in "The Early Bird." Alice Day in "Tea for Two" and a Felix cartoon will complete the program.

Thursday night only Agnes Ayers and Warner Baxter will star in "The Awful Truth." Thursday is also vaudeville night, and four acts of standard vaudeville will be the big attraction.

Pardon Heads Home From Eastern Trip

Mr. and Mrs. Pardon Head and grandson, Herbert Russell Head, returned Monday from an automobile trip covering over six thousand miles.

Leaving Covina June 19th, the party followed the Santa Fe trail to Walters, Oklahoma, visiting Mrs. Head's brother, then north to Junction City, Kansas, leaving the grandson with his mother for a four-week visit. Relatives of Mr. Head's were visited in Omaha, Nebraska, and Missouri Valley, Iowa. Six weeks were spent in Marshall county, Iowa, the old home county, visiting many friends, and a son and daughter at Waterloo and Marshalltown.

The party started for home August 20th, making short stops at Sibley and Spencer, Iowa, to see relatives. From there they took the Yellowstone trail through the Black Hills in South Dakota and the Big Horn mountains in Wyoming, spending three days in Yellowstone park. From Salt Lake City they followed the Arrowhead trail home.

Covina Masons at Monrovia Picnic

A large delegation of local Masons, headed by Past Master Claude Searcy and Commander Charles Hassheider, attended the picnic supper Friday evening given annually by the Masons of Monrovia on the lawn of their beautiful temple.

Festivities started with a tempting al fresco supper. Gailey colored Japanese lanterns furnished illumination and at the same time lent a festive atmosphere.

The supper served by the local hosts was a delectable one, with steak the piece de resistance of the menu. The meat was cooked over eight big grills, there being a T-bone steak for every picnicker. Relishes, baked potatoes, hot rolls and coffee accompanied the steak. Watermelon topped off the feast.

The supper was served cafeteria style and after getting their plates filled to overflowing the visitors found places at long tables which filled the gardens of the temple.

The picnic supper over, the Masons were entertained very informally. Arthur Raymond Hill and Les Roscoe, of radio fame, proved exceedingly popular as entertainers, the enthusiastic audience insisting upon their appearance almost constantly. Interspersing the "jazz" songs and music of the pair, was an equally entertaining act presented by Bill Brown, noted sleight-of-hand artist. Mr. Brown alternately kept the throngs in gales of laughter or moments of surprise.

There were informal talks during the evening also. Among those called upon were W. M. Bideman of Los Angeles, who represented Will H. Fisher, junior grand warden, who at the last minute was unable to attend; Wilbur Stewart, inspector of the eighty-second district; Arthur Tangeman, inspector of the eighty-fifth district, and E. D. Laughren, head of the Monrovia lodge.

Mrs. Mary McNeill Dies in Los Angeles

The death occurred on Sunday, at her home in Los Angeles, of Mrs. Mary A. McNeill, widow of the late S. McNeill, and sister of Mrs. Austin Warner of this city. The deceased had been an invalid for the past three years but had only taken to her couch ten days prior to her death.

The funeral services, of a private nature, were held at the residence on Tuesday morning and were conducted by the Rev. C. P. Metcalf, a former pastor of the deceased, who was assisted by the Rev. Dr. Kimball of the Methodist church of Highland Park. Interment occurred at Oakdale cemetery, this city, the remains being laid beside those of her husband, whose death occurred February 15, 1917. Services at the grave were participated in by the Rev. C. P. Metcalf, Rev. Alfred Inwood of Glendora, and Rev. John Nicholson of Covina. "Beautiful Isle of Somewhere" was sung by Mrs. J. L. Matthews and Miss Crystal Gates.

The deceased was born in Ohio in 1844, moving with her family to Iowa in 1850. She was married to Mr. S. C. McNeill, a successful broker and insurance agent at Knoxsville, Iowa, November 1, 1865, and lived there until they moved to California in November, 1905. Mr. and Mrs. McNeill spent six months in Covina at that time and later returned to Covina in 1909, making their residence here until the spring of 1912. They moved permanently to Los Angeles September, 1916. The deceased was a devoted Christian character and during her residence in this city made many close friends. She united with the Methodist Episcopal church very early in life and until the last few years had always been an active member, teaching in the Sunday school and prominent in the missionary societies of the church.

She had no children, but adopted her niece, Mrs. Bessie Fultz, wife of a well-known magazine writer and educator, Professor Francis Fultz.

Citrus Fruits Are Setting Records in Financial Returns

In point of money return, the 1925 California citrus crop will be the biggest in the history of the industry.

A close check of sales this season made by the various citrus marketing organizations shows that to July 31, $75,000,000 worth of oranges and lemons had been marketed, or a total of approximately $20,000,000 more than ever has been received by the industry before. And these factors estimate that there was fruit to the value of $10,000,000 yet to be moved. The citrus year ends October 31.

Last season the return was around $55,000,000 for about 26,000,000 boxes of fruit, or an average of about $2.25 per box. This year the total will be $85,000,000 for approximately 20,000,000 boxes, or an average of $4 per box. In 1921, when the sales totaled $60,000,000, the highest return before this year's record, approximately 26,000,000 boxes of fruit were shipped.

All counties in Southern California participated in the big money received for the citrus crop, with the exception of San Luis Obispo, where few oranges and lemons are grown. In Orange county alone, the 1925 crop brought more than $5,000,000 more than the 1924 picking.

Los Angeles county, by reason of its large acreage in citrus fruits, also received a greatly increased return from citrus sales, as did Ventura, Riverside, San Bernardino, Santa Barbara and San Diego counties.

High prices for oranges and lemons straight through the season were responsible for the increased value of the crop. Sales were made on active demand, and at no time did the price of good oranges drop to last year's low figure in the east. Unusually hot weather in the middle west and east stimulated the demand for lemons, and for Valencias, or summer oranges, with the result that they moved into the markets at exceptionally high prices even after melons and deciduous fruits appeared.

A survey of the citrus acreage in Southern California made recently by the agricultural department of the Los Angeles chamber of commerce shows there are 148,839 acres in bearing oranges, and 45,942 acres in bearing lemons. Non-bearing plantings of oranges total 11,467 acres, and lemons 4859 acres. This does not take into consideration the orange plantings in Tulare county, which total 36,239 acres.

Five-Ring Circus Realized at Last By Ringling Outfit

At last the five-ring circus!

For years reporters have used this figure of speech to describe the bigness of the bigness of the greatest show on earth. Now, for the first time in history, patrons will actually find five rings when the greater Ringling Brothres and Barnum & Bailey circus of 1925 comes to Los Angeles Sept. 12, 13, 14, and 15.

With the addition last winter of enough performing horses to bring the big show's total to three hundred and fifty, the problem presented to the Ringling Brothers was, "How handle five troupes of them in a single display?" The limits of the show grounds in many cities forbade lengthening the main tent. Then somebody suggested that tho the "big top" paraphernalia could not be cut down nor yet "spread out," there was no reason why it should not be "built higher." That suggestion was worked out and now, in addition to the three dirt-floored rings, two additional rings have been constructed to fit over the tops of the steel structured stages.

This is the greatst innovation since the Ringling Brothers started their super-circus policy of combining their own with the Barnum & Bailey circus.

The hippodrome track is utilized more than ever before. At one time it is completely circled by one hundred and fifty trained horses, each ridden by an expert, in an amazing ballet and "Fete of the Garlands." Again it is filled with glittering pageants, with splendid high-school horses or remarkable thoroughbreds that give thrilling exhibitions of lofty hurdling and hazardous high-jumps.

Legion Closes Its State Endowment Fund Campaign

Bringing to a successful conclusion the Southern California drive of the American Legion endowment fund for the benefit of orphans of veterans of the world war, Buron R. Fitts, chairman of the district campaign committee, today announced that the quota of $215,000 had not only been raised, but had been oversubscribed by several thousands of dollars.

Completion of the drive in Los Angeles city brought the quota of the Southern California district up to the mark set for it by national herdquarters.

The purpose of the campaign was to provide a national endowment fund of five million dollars to care for and educate the orphans of veterans of the world war who died in the country's service.

The Covina quota was set at $500, and was quickly over-subscribed by $749.00, making a total of $1294. The campaign in this city was in charge of Fred William Carter, commander of Howard T. Douglas post.

Early Days in Covina

TEN YEARS AGO

Great state resources impresses Covina man. J. R. Elliott, with party, returns from Drive to San Francisco. Speaks enthusiastically of fair exhibits. Mr. and Mrs. Elliott, Mrs. H. E. Milliken and Miss Angie Griswold made the trip. Mr. Elliott said the trip across the state was an education. He was impressed with the evident need of big capital for the developing of some of the big stretches.

On Saturday, Sept. 25th, the associated chambers of commerce of the San Gabriel valley will hold a picnic in San Gabriel canyon. Every property holder and booster of his home town is cordially invited to attend the picnic.

Police of this and nearby towns are on the lookout for Antonio Rivera and Pietra Salvero, the latter a 12-year-old girl whom Rivera kidnapped from her home in Azusa on Sept. 1st. The girl was hurried to a rooming house and disguised in man's clothes.

The regular September meeting of the W. C. T. U. will be held at the home of Mrs. J. L. Matthews next Friday afternoon, at 2:30. An address will be given by Rev. S. J. McConnell.

A church filled to overflowing with people greeted Rev. W. W. Catherwood and his wife Thursday night in the Baptist church, a jollification that the popular pastor had decided to stay at the head of this church instead of accepting a call to another pastorate.

The break of day Saturday morning found a jolly but tired bunch of young people of the Baptist church on the summit of Mt. Wilson.

A quiet home wedding was witnessed Thursday evening, Sept. 2nd, by about forty out-of-town relatives when Miss Leota Roberts was married to Mr. Burgess Spry of Pasadena, Rev. Chauncey A. Foreman officiating.

Mr. Anderson has purchased a residence on Park street and will at once commence the erection of a house thereon.

Water developments have been pushed this summer in this locality with considerable vigor, with the result that Covina now has an ample and permanent supply. W. G. Kerckhoff and Perry Bashore commenced last week pumping new wells on their ranches, the former securing a flow of 20 inches and the latter 14 inches. W. D. Clark also finished installation this week of a plant in the former Dick Pollard well and is pumping a steady stream of 25 inches.

Rev. Charles Jones, who has been absent for four weeks on his vacation, will conduct the regular preaching service in the Baptist church next Sunday morning.

Miss Grace Potter of Los Angeles is at present visiting her brothers, C. W. and W. H. Potter. This young lady expects to leave in a few weeks for a lengthy visit with friends in Iowa.

J. C. Hutchinson, assistant cashier of the Covina Valley bank, will take his vacation this month. He expects to visit Santa Barbara and other points of interest.

Mrs. W. K. Stewart and family are enjoying a protracted stay at Long Beach. Mr. Stewart will go down tomorrow and remain the day.

On Monday Mrs. B. F. Cook and Mrs. H. M. Faulder and daughter returned from a stay at Coronado and Santa Monica.

J. H. Adams and family will reside in Los Angeles this winter, to enable their daughter, Miss Olga, to attend the Marlborough academy.

The opening of Independence hall by its new owner, J. Harry Smith, on Thursday evening attracted an attendance of nearly 300 persons. A program of music and recitations by local talent and plantation songs by Miss Alice Morley was enjoyed.

What Labor Has Done For the San Gabriel Valley

"Old Man Phillips" is the manner in which some used to speak of an individual who perhaps more than any other person provided the foundation upon which industry in the San Gabriel valley has been built.

The energy and courage of Phillips brought water in the first ditch to the lower portion of the valley, diverting the water from the river mouth and through the sand and sunflowers to that great stretch of sandy silt upon which Covina and surrounding communities were built. Manpower in the valley in those days was not plentiful. There was a great deal of skepticism as to whether the water would ever reach the lower end, even if man's labor could build this ditch. The greedy sands of the desert would suck it all up, many said. But after a time the water arrived in a steady flow, and the lower desert began its transformation into the great garden of citrus fruits that for forty years has been steadily expanding in area.

Men labored hard in this valley before the water came down the ditch, and they continued to labor, to put forth unremitting toil afterwards, but with hope in their hearts—a hope that has been realized a hundredfold. These men were the first laborers of note in this end of the valley. They were homesteaders, pioneers. They had lived through the period when they were obliged to bring water in barrels from the canyon in order to keep families and stock alive. They reaped the benefits of that labor, just as honest labor anywhere will reach its certain reward.

From that time on and now labor has been the keynote, the cornerstone, here. Whether it has been the man and woman who labored in their own homes and fields or the ones who toiled for hire, the conditions have been as nearly ideal as could be found anywhere in the world, and seldom has there been any hint of serious dissatisfaction between owner and laborer, nor have we ever known what it has been to suffer for the real necessities of life. And we long ago arrived at the point where the majority live in a condition of comfort that could scarcely have been dreamed of by the men who beat down the cactus and sagebrush and carved an orange empire on the San Gabriel plains.

To the west of where Covina stands today, and many years before our own pioneers came into this valley there was at one time still another kind of labor that has left its indelible imprint on this land and provided it with a history that has been woven into beautiful song and story. Under the direction of brown-robed Franciscan monks, the Indians, first occupants of these plains, brought timber down from the mountains on their backs and on the backs of mules in order that the structure that became the San Gabriel mission might stand as a symbol to the deathless devotion of the followers of the cross.

And again we are told of that most poignant labor of the Argonauts who, having after weary days of crossing the deserts plunged down from the mountain pass far to the east and began the dangerous traverse of this waterless expense, toiling on over the trail near where we stand today and reaching at last after many days the green cienega a few miles west of us, the "damp lands" of El Monte, and rested for weeks before attempting the dangerous journey onward to the pueblo of Los Angeles.

Labor built this beautiful valley, a temple more wonderful than any cathedral that may be called one of the world's seven wonders. These trees that stand rank on rank for miles were planted one by one by men sweating in the sun. The work has been endless, watchful and accompanied by worry and care, but man has made a home here with his own hands, where children grow and play in safety, where institutions of learning rise as marvelous in architecture as any world temple, and where an American people find the full freedom that was intended as the birthright of man.

And these conditions existing between the man who employs and the man who sells his labor that have continued with so little friction all these years in this valley prove to us, more than anything, perhaps, that it is not so much a few pieces of silver that a man works for, but happiness for himself and those who are dependent upon him; not money but good living conditions he desires, and wherever you find strife between labor and those who employ, you will invariably find that it is not actually the wage that is in discussion, but the lack of a chance to live as men should live, sheltered and clothed and fed, with an environment that is conducive to self-respect and peace of mind. No amount of money can actually compensate a man who works in a coal mine, even though it may be true that he is performing some of the necessary work of the world. But here, through all these years while we have lived and worked to fashion a civilization in the desert, no matter how heavy the load may have been, we have always had the opportunity to look up at the mountains, to enjoy God's sunshine and air, and to walk erect and in the light of day.

There are no slaves in this valley. There is no peonage, and the iron collar is on the neck of no man. Here labor is king, and always will be; free labor, willing labor, contented labor, the power that today is literally moving mountains, the power that is the bedrock, the Atlas of free civilization.

One-Profit Value Unit-Built Construction

Make Studebakers Bargains in Quality

BECAUSE Studebaker builds for Studebaker cars all bodies, all engines, all axles, clutches, differentials, steering gear, springs, gear sets, gray iron castings and drop forgings—it is possible to give purchasers two advantages:

1. A price advantage: Because Studebaker eliminates extra profits which all other manufacturers (except Ford) must pay to outside parts or body makers. Thus Studebaker is able to use steel of extra toughness, fine northern white ash and hard maple, wool upholstery, plate glass, painstaking workmanship to precision standards, and extra equipment, such as gasoline gauge, clock, stop light, etc.—yet charge no more than competing cars.

2. A construction advantage: Because all parts are not only designed to constitute one harmonious unit, but are Unit-Built in Studebaker plants. Being built as a unit, every Studebaker functions as a unit. This results in years longer life, scores of thousands of miles of excess transportation, greater riding comfort, minimum repair costs and, finally, higher resale value.

The net of it is this: the one-profit Studebaker with its unit-built construction offers you a bargain in quality.

There are others in our general price field who also build quality cars. But for models that are at all comparable their prices are higher.

Others, who once built quality cars, have made material sacrifice in order to secure superficial price advantages. These cars are good value for the man or woman who wants that kind of a car. But if he wants a bargain in quality there is only one answer—Studebaker.

Consider, for instance, the Standard Six Coach, illustrated above. It has wool upholstering; plate glass; fine trim to hide all tacks; heavy, ornamental hardware; clock; gasoline gauge on dash; automatic windshield cleaner; stop light; locks on ignition; steering gear, door and spare-tire carrier all operated by a single key.

Slam the door and the sound says "quality." Swing on the door. Run one wheel up on the curb and note how the doors still open and close. Sit on the firm, heavy fenders. Try the steering gear. See how easily it handles the full-size balloon tires. Test the comfort of the deep rear seat. Its genuine wool upholstery covers two layers of washed, quilted cotton, one layer of genuine curled hair and extra long springs closely held together by small coil springs.

Run the engine—the most powerful in any car of this size and weight, according to the ratings of the National Automobile Chamber of Commerce.

Come in and see this bargain in quality—the lowered price closed car ever sold by Studebaker.
